

To Answer Questions On Main St. Paving At Nomination Friday

A nomination meeting for candidates for the office of deputy-revee, left vacant by the death of J. L. Spillette, will be held in the Newmarket town hall on Friday (tomorrow) night. Three candidates are definitely running and it is expected that others will be nominated then.

THIRD CANDIDATE HARRY GOODMAN ENTERS D.R. RACE

A third candidate has definitely announced he will seek the office of deputy-revee in the September 22 election in Newmarket. Harry Goodman, car dealer on Davis Dr., announced last Thursday afternoon that he was definitely seeking the office left vacant by the death of J. L. Spillette.

His announcement makes three who have definitely said they would run. Besides Mr. Goodman are Councillors Jos. Dales and Lorne Faynter. There have been many rumors of other candidates with the names of former members of council frequently mentioned, but so far, only these three have definitely said they would run.

Mr. Goodman has run for council before.

It is expected, however, that there will be announcements of other candidates at the nomination meeting on Friday night in the town hall.

MORE PUBLICITY NEEDED FOR VOTE ON STREET - DALES

"More publicity should have been given to push the Main St. project for the coming vote," Councillor Joseph Dales said in town council meeting on Monday night.

"I feel that the paper has provided much publicity about it, especially in former weeks during the summer," said Mayor Vale. "I have felt that the publicity given to it provided a good time for a vote to be taken," he said.

"The people should certainly be given the chance to know what they are voting for," said Mr. Dales. "We didn't want them to get the idea that council or any member of council was opposed to the project. My own opinion about this vote is that it is giving the public a chance to state its viewpoint," he said.

T.V. Makes Debut Monday Night Newmarket Good Reception Area

Canadian television's debut was seen by many in Newmarket on Monday night. Reception was almost perfect, Newmarket being within a radius of the C.B.C. describes as having "good" reception.

Over 100 attended a first night T.V. showing at the town hall, sponsored by Stewart Beare. Three receiving machines were placed on the stage of the hall and there could be no criticism about reception.

As time goes on, the power of station C.B.C.-T. in Toronto, will be increased to take in a much larger area. As it is now, Barrie is situated just outside the fringe area described as having "fair" reception.

What effect television will have on our community life is a question. Certainly it will have some influence on social life, whether it be good or bad. It will provide an easy means to entertain friends in the evening. On the other hand it may break up friendships.

How much it will affect the economics of our community is another question. Business at the cinema may be affected, and on page three.

The nomination meeting is open to the public, as is the practice at the annual nomination meetings, and it is expected that the candidates will state their platforms then.

At the same time, members of the council will be present to answer questions on rebuilding Main St. This issue is to be put to a vote, to be taken at the same time as the vote for the deputy-revee on Sept. 22.

The election for a deputy-revee is mandatory under provincial law. There was some question whether members of council who were seeking the office should resign but the province ruled that they did not have to. If a member of council is elected deputy-revee, his seat remains vacant to the end of the year.

The question of rebuilding Main St. became a controversial issue when it was first raised in council and has become increasingly so since the council's decision to place the question before the ratepayers. This week, in a letter to the ratepayers, Mayor Jos. Vale outlined major points involved in the question.

They are: Main St. will likely be returned to the jurisdiction of the town. The Toronto and York Roads Commission is prepared to rebuild its share of Main St. If the commission's offer is not accepted by the town, "it is extremely unlikely that the funds would be available another year and the county's share of the work would have to be paid by the town."

Also the rebuilding of Main St. now will reduce annual maintenance costs estimated between $2,000 and $4,000 annually.

Newmarket's share of the cost, estimated at two mills, would be reduced in a comparatively short time to an estimated one mill by the combination of saving on maintenance and expanding assessment.

The full text of his letter is published on page nine of this issue.

PHOTO WINNER

REQUEST ACTION

A letter from the township of East Gwillimbury requesting action by Newmarket to relieve the township of the sewage problem in the Holland River north of town, was read at council meeting Monday night. The letter urged council to take immediate action since the provincial department of health had advised the construction of a sewage disposal plant in Newmarket.

But it is too early to disband the "Spillites" and surely people are not going to give up skating for T.V. From what we see of cartoons and satires in the United States, some people just work all day and watch television all night. Let us hope that human activity in our community does not extend to that level.

As it is now, however, television is all right in this initial week of Canadian T.V.

The only disturbing aspect of television to us was a minor one. The sight of announcers whom we had formerly pictured in our minds as handsome, suave "Rows of Bond Street", was disturbing. The images in our mind stimulated by radio sound of their voices were shattered by the visual proof on T.V. that most of them have bald heads.

An unusual cucumber is displayed by Beth West, 11, who holds this garden product which grew to a great length, and formed a complete circle. Terry Doane, Queensville grew the cucumber and brought it in to Mrs. Irene West, Beth's mother, who displayed it at Hillsdale Dairy. This has been a good season for cucumbers and children have been seen on the streets with unusual shapes and sizes of cucumbers. Beth West lives at 172 Main St. and attends the Alexander Muir school.

Ask On Friday

There is general agreement that Main St. must be rebuilt. The county's willingness to pay their share of the cost now has brought the issue to a head. The members of council considered the question too important to be decided without a vote of the ratepayers. That vote is on Sept. 22. As they await the vote, the ratepayers are asking these questions:

The businessman: "How will the job be done? Will it be by a large firm and done quickly? Or will it be a small firm, working slowly? If the latter, we will suffer a heavy loss of business while Main St. is torn up."

The resident: "Will this be local improvement work or will the whole cost be spread over the town?"

The large property-owner: "How will this effect the tax-rate? Other heavy costs are pending. Are other matters more important than Main St.? What about the sewage disposal plant?"

The merchant: "How about sidewalk levels? Will they be changed?"

These are only a few of the questions asked on Main St. Since the council let the ratepayers decide whether to do the job, it is the council's responsibility to see that these questions are answered. Some of the answers are contained in the mayor's letter published on page nine. The other answers should be given at the nomination meeting on Friday.

Main St. must be rebuilt sooner or later. It is a job long overdue. If Newmarket waits, it is fairly certain the cost will be that much more. But the ratepayers cannot be expected to decide unless they have answers to all their questions.

If council has a responsibility to give the answers, the ratepayers surely have a responsibility too, to inform themselves. Anyone who has doubts or questions about the rebuilding of Main St. should be prepared to raise those questions at the nomination meeting.

Every ratepayer should be present on Friday night, not only for the nomination of candidates for deputy-revee, but because they can only make an honest decision on Main St. if they are informed.

SCOUTS TO HOLD SALVAGE DRIVE

The Newmarket boy scout association plans a salvage drive shortly. The scouts had given up their drives in the past months because the waste paper market had dropped and collections were not profitable.

The market has improved slightly and funds are needed to carry on the scout organization, according to a member of the scout committee. Residents are asked to save paper, rags and cardboard for the coming drive.

Date of the drive will be announced in next week's issue of the Era and Express.

ESCAPE OF FOUR PROMPTS CALLS TO POLICE HERE

The escape of four bank robbers from Don Jail in Toronto on Monday was chief topic of conversation in Newmarket in the early part of the week, outdoing even the controversial rebuilding of Main St. There were many numbers of rumors that one or more of the four were sighted in the vicinity. There were reports that they were seen out Schomberg way and again, in the vicinity of Jackson's Point.

Police Chief Burbidge said that there had been ten or more calls, reporting suspicious characters, but nothing had come of them.

MORE HOMES BUILT IN KING TWP. SO FAR IN '52

The extent of the building boom is reflected in the increased number of building permits issued in King township so far this year. Figures released this week show that up to the end of August, 90 permits for new homes had been issued, compared to 56 permits issued during the same period last year.

Most of the building is being done in the southern sections of the township. Total value of all building, repairs and alterations for that period this year is $767,875, compared to $425,525 last year and a total last year of $684,450.

To Restore Eagle Street Cemetery

The old cemetery on Eagle St., Newmarket, was plowed up this week and one stone remains on the lot. Some residents were concerned that the burial site of some of Newmarket's pioneers was being desecrated.

The apparent destruction, however, was the first step taken to restore the cemetery. The plan is to level the ground which has been left to grow into a wild state for many years, to re-seed the property and cement the remaining stones into three stone cairns.

Many of the stones are crumbling and too old to stand upright. They will be put in three cairns in the centre of the lot. The front will be lawn and the back part forested.

The property belongs to the Anglican church. The St. Paul's Anglican church, Newmarket, has directed $500 of its funds to start the restoration of the cemetery. That money is paying for work being done at present.

A campaign is planned to raise funds to aid the restoration and keep the cemetery in proper condition in years to come. One of Newmarket's pioneers, Dr. Beswick, was buried there. He died at the age of 118, in 1839. He was one of the founders of the Anglican church in Newmarket.

MOTORBIKE ACCIDENT

Bill Beaudoin, 17, Newmarket and Brant Crockett, 18, Toronto, were injured on No. 11 highway 10 miles north of Barrie on Sunday, when they were thrown from a motorcycle. According to police, they said they were rounding a bend when the kickstand on the bike fell out of place. It prevented the driver from leaning the motorcycle in the curve. They were thrown into the ditch and received head cuts and bruises. They were taken to the Royal Victoria hospital in Barrie.

OVER 2,000 SWIMMING LESSONS PROVIDED BY CLUB

The Optimist club of Keswick launched a project this summer to provide swimming instruction for over 2,000 children at 15 beaches along Lake Simcoe. The club hired Robert Thomson to provide instruction and a total of 219 youngsters passed swimming tests on various levels.

As a public service, the club taught children how to swim, to improve their swimming and to observe rules of water safety.

In the classes, 65 beginners were brought along to a point where they could enter junior proficiency tests for Red Cross awards; 118 juniors passed tests for Red Cross awards and 31 intermediates and five seniors received Red Cross awards.

In all, over 2,676 children took half-hour lessons and more received instruction without registering. Red Cross movies were shown in 10 different localities. Six beaches had three showings and it was estimated that over 3,000 saw the movies, according to a club report. The newly appointed township recreation commission, appointed by the council, helped with finances for instructor's salary and other expenses. Some of the beach associations made donations.

The Optimist club plans to improve the system for next summer and beach associations have expressed an eagerness to continue their support.

Police Curb Speed And Overloading Of Gravel Trucks

Police are clamping down on truck operators drawing gravel to Yonge St. Speed is being checked along Davis Drive, east of Newmarket town limits, and weight is also being checked to prevent overloading of trucks.

Last Friday afternoon an accident involving a gravel truck, a tractor and a car on the Sharon-Mount Albert sideroad caused the death of Auley Brenair, an East Gwillimbury township farmer.

A charge of dangerous driving was laid against the driver of the gravel truck, Fred Moore, Newmarket, by Constable Fred Obee of the township police.

The accident occurred a quarter mile east of Dike's mill early Friday afternoon. The truck driven by Moore travelling west down a hill, hit the back end of a trailer loaded with baled hay which was being hauled by Brenair's tractor, also travelling west.

The impact caused the tractor to swerve into a car travelling east, driven by C. Albert Gould, Orillia. Brenair was knocked from the tractor. He was taken to York County hospital. He died Friday night.

Yesterday East Gwillimbury township police were checking on gravel trucks all morning. The trucks are hauling gravel to an asphalt plant near the corner of Davis Dr. and No. 11 highway where Curran and Briggs, contractors, are preparing material for the paving and widening of Yonge St.

According to police, many trucks have been overloaded. Since the weight checking has been carried out, many truckers have stopped hauling for the contractors and have gone to other jobs. Regulations require certain licenses to haul heavy loads. Rather than pay the higher license fees for heavy loads, some truckers have left the job, police say.

Last year the accident rate was high for trucks drawing gravel for the new Barrie highway project. The short schedule caused a trucking race to haul as great a tonnage as possible in a short time. There were many truck break-downs, several railway crossing wrecks and other road accidents with other vehicles involved.

Give Twp. Residents Authority To Shoot Dogs Chasing Sheep

Action to offset the loss of sheep killed by dogs has been taken by East Gwillimbury township council. According to a township resolution anyone may shoot a dog caught killing or worrying sheep and he can collect a five dollar bounty for doing it.

Rural municipal councils have always made a practice of paying farmers for the loss when their sheep were killed by dogs or died of exhaustion from being chased by dogs. Thousands of dollars are paid annually for sheep losses by municipalities.

Now East Gwillimbury is going after the dogs themselves. Dog owners will be held responsible for all damage done to livestock and dogs must bear the township tags. "Any dog not under proper control may be shot at any time, if found on property where sheep are habitually kept," the resolution adds.

The council has been receiving many complaints from sheep breeders in the township. Many farmers have abandoned sheep raising because of the risk of heavy losses. The problem has been the concern of sheep breeders' association for some time.

The camera catches a production in full swing in one of the two studios at CBLT, Channel 9, the CBC's television production centre in Toronto. The station went on the air on Monday. In the background, well-known songstress Phyllis Marshall appears against a studio set. Overhead the massive pipework grid can be seen, on which the many necessary lighting fixtures are attached. On the right, foreground, is the TV cameraman and his camera, which is mounted on a moveable tripod. On the left, foreground, is the microphone boom man and boom pusher. Centre, foreground, shows the studio director, the intermediary between studio personnel and the producer in the control room. (See also Editor's Notebook.)

Camera is mounted on a crane-type dolly which permits horizontal and vertical movement. Dolly can be pushed easily into position for close-up or long shots. Cameraman has four lenses to select from, depending on nature of the shot. Overhead grid of pipework, from which a variety of lighting fixtures are suspended, can also be seen.

LETTER FROM GERMANY

Starr Writes

110 Avenue Mozart,
Paris 16,
Sept. 6, 1952.

Dear John: It is not long since I lost reported, but there have been several very interesting experiences packed into the brief interval. After spending a very quiet two days in Frankfurt I journeyed by night train to Geneva.

Arriving there, I headed straight for the Quaker Centre, just like a homing pigeon, but it seems almost impossible to go anywhere in Europe without meeting someone you know, so I really wasn't too surprised to meet a friend of mine from Duluth, Minnesota. He had just arrived in town and was headed out to see the sights, so I hastened on to the Quaker Centre to get rid of my luggage, and then joined him for a tour of the town.

He was escorting an Egyptian girl he met in Paris, and she spoke French, which was very helpful since neither of us did. I had always thought of Geneva as primarily a centre of various world organizations, so I was amazed to discover that it is also a major tourist resort. However, the peak season was past so it wasn't crowded and we were able to get around quite freely.

I was disappointed that none of the international organizations were in session at the time, as I had hoped to see a little of the operations that went on there.

Leaving Geneva I went to a little Alpine village called Chateau d'Oex. The last lap of that journey was on a little mountain railroad which I promptly named "Toonerville Trolley". On that train I regretted my inability to speak French most acutely as there was a very charming looking young lady aboard, but to my query of "Parlez vous Anglais, Mademoiselle?" she only shook her head, smiled and said "Non".

I am a lover of mountains and would have been very glad to let my stay in the Alps stretch out much longer, but tickets and reservations are demanding so I had to hasten back to Frankfurt where I boarded a plane for Berlin, and in less than two hours found myself standing on historic ground behind the iron curtain. I refer to Tempelhof airfield where transport planes landed every five minutes throughout the day and night during the Berlin blockade.

In fact I believe the tempo was stepped up to one plane every three minutes at times. I was rather surprised to hear the airlift mentioned by Berliners, after so many months had elapsed, but they referred to it frequently, and always with great gratitude that they had not been abandoned to the Russians. A stay in Berlin is a very valuable experience and something that I recommend to anyone who contemplates going to Europe. It is the one place where you can penetrate beyond the iron curtain quite freely, and the only place where an East German and West German can meet with a reasonable degree of safety.

Also, it is through Berlin that most refugees from the east make their escape into the west. There are no restrictions whatever on personal movements between the various sectors of the city, but you must remember to get your money changed before you go over, as they use only their own brand of money in the east but there is no place in the east sector where you can get money changed.

In East Berlin they have more propaganda signs than we have advertising signs, and to a person who abhors high pressure advertising it is most frustrating.

At home we at least have variety and originality in our signs, but in East Berlin you don't have much choice. You must go "Forward with the Peoples' Democratic Revolution", or perhaps you are saying "Good Luck to our gallant leaders, Stalin,

Junior Farmers Hold Sixth Camp At Duclos

Junior Farmers from ten counties in central Ontario, met from August 23 to August 30 for the sixth annual District Junior Farmers' camp at Duclos Point Lake Simcoe.

The camp, sponsored by the Ontario department of agriculture as a Junior Farmer leadership training course, is designed to give a healthy balance between recreation and education on a high moral plane. During the week, instructions were received in music, dramatics, recreation, social welfare and programme planning.

The camp is operated on an Indian tribal plan and, on his arrival, each camper was delegated to one of four Indian tribes. Under the guidance of a very capable staff, called the Big Feet, the tribes are moulded into active units each of which has its own chieftain and its own defined duties and responsibilities.

Perhaps the most fascinating item about this camp was the very evident spirit of good fellowship and co-operation existing among the campers. The willingness to co-operate resulted in miraculous achievements in a very small amount of time. An example was the excellent camp concert which this year took the form of a minstrel show. The show was the result of combined efforts of dramatics instructor Dorothy Bowman, Newmarket, music instructor Margaret Watson and recreation director Mary Reid and their cast of 38 campers.

The final evaluation period found the group very enthusiastic in their support of Junior Farmer camps. Each camper pledged to return to his home club with as much as possible of the knowledge he had gained and to remember the spirit of camp as symbolized in the opening camp fire.

The programme director was W. F. Mitchell, director of physical education at the Ontario Agricultural College and the camp supervisor was E. K. Pearson, of the department of Agriculture, Newmarket.

Junior Farmers attending camp from this county were: Misses Alleen Easton, Gormley; Jean Brumwell, Gormley; Olive Arlow, Woodbridge; Margaret Arkinstall, Newmarket; Pat McFarquhar, Queensville; Messrs. Geo. Hooper, Gormley; Kenneth Kersey, Woodbridge and Bruce King, Woodbridge.

Four Win Firsts In C.N.E. Judging Tests

Four first prize winners and many others well up in the money was the record established by York Junior Farmers in the C.N.E. judging competitions. The competition brought out 301 contestants from all parts of Ontario and each of the various classes were well filled.

Bob Armstrong of Armitage was the winner in horse judging for seniors, while Bob Petch of Gormley R.R. 2, was winner in the senior farm machinery section. In the junior classes, open to 4-H Club members, Sylvia Easton of Gormley R.R. 2 was the winner in the beef section in a class of 44. Margaret Arkinstall of Newmarket, was fourth in this class. Gordon Brumwell of Gormley R.R. 2, was the winner in the junior farm machinery test.

In dairy cattle judging, Carl Boynton of Woodbridge was fourth and Donald Brodie of Gormley was third in very large classes.

The competitions are open to anyone under 26 years of age and it is interesting to note the prize winners are all active Junior Farmers or 4-H Club members.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Jack Vance, a graduate last year of the Newmarket high school, has been awarded a scholarship valued at $580 to the Royal Military College at Kingston. He starts there Sept. 12. The scholarship, The Ontario Canteen Fund Scholarship, is awarded for scholarship, athletics and character, and is open to all successful Ontario applicants to R.M.C. or Royal Roads, Victoria.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

We were present at a press "preview" of Canadian television on Monday afternoon. A party of 150 or so reporters was taken on a tour of the station on Jarvis St. and then given the opportunity to question the chairman of the CBC board of governors, A. D. Duntun.

It was a fascinating experience. We were taken into the two big studios in the new TV station where we saw Dave Price, CBC sports director, his guest, Ted Reeves, and another sports authority rehearse a program. We saw the control rooms, the dressing rooms, where TV films are prepared. All of us confessed a certain confusion before the multiplicity of knobs and wires and tubes. All of us were enthusiastic about the final product.

The station was broadcasting at half hour intervals pictures and descriptions of the four bank-robbers who broke out of Don Jail Monday morning. The CBC officials disclaimed any responsibility for the break but admitted that it did give the new station an excellent opportunity to demonstrate its usefulness.

In the interview which followed our tour, Mr. Duntun was asked a variety of questions: why wasn't the TV antenna built on top of a high building? What was the policy about increasing the number of broadcasting hours? How far would the Toronto signal broadcast?

The answers were that an antenna on top of a tall building was considered but dismissed for reasons of economy. The policy for increasing the present three-hour broadcast is to work slowly, concentrating on quality rather than quantity. The Toronto signal is expected to reach as far as the west shores of Lake Huron.

There dozens of other questions concerned with the details of the station, negotiations with other networks, contemplated programs and so on. The more interesting facts emerging from the interview were the CBC insistence upon quality of the programs and the use, as much as possible, of Canadian talent. It is expected that the Toronto signal will be increased in power considerably when the permanent antenna is installed.

They are using only a temporary antenna now.

Programs for schools are being considered and it is expected that experiments will be undertaken in Toronto this fall. The policy of licensing private stations is as yet indefinite. The government is the licensing body and CBC has made no recommendations to it as yet.

There was an acute awareness of cost evident in many of the answers, a fact which may come as a surprise to the critics who have accused the CBC of free spending of public money. And again, the insistence upon quality. The answers gave the definite impression of an open mind to program possibilities, that every aspect of TV transmission was being explored and thoroughly tested and it found worthwhile, put on the air.

The station and its facilities are larger than the average private station in the United States but not as large as the TV network studios. The equipment is the most modern available. There has been a re-awakening of interest among advertisers and the problem was now to find a way of accommodating all those who wished to use the CBC facilities. Arrangements had been concluded with two U.S. TV networks for the use of programs; nothing has been settled with two others.

Another aspect of the TV set-up was the youth of the technicians. There were few grey-heads on the operating level. With that youth was evident a fine enthusiasm. There was an atmosphere of eagerness and confidence about the building. Mr. Duntun is himself a young man and from the chairman down, there was a freshness of approach which augured well for Canadian TV.

There were four TV sets in the conference room. During the interview, only the test pattern had shown on the screen. There was a discussion on the use of Canadian talent. Minutes later, the screen came alive with the regular half-hour broadcast of the pictures and descriptions of the four escaped bank robbers.

The interruption brought a laugh from the audience and the wry comment of "Canadian talent" from Mr. Duntun.

THURSDAY, THE ELEVENTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-TWO

RIGHT MAN NEEDED

The meeting for the nomination of candidates for the office of deputy-reeve will be held tomorrow night. It should have a large attendance. There is more at stake here than simply choosing someone to fill the office. Newmarket council needs a deputy-reeve capable of representing Newmarket in the county council where far-reaching decisions are now being made. But as well, the council needs a transfusion of new ideas, of a fresh imagination, of an earnest concern for the future.

Three candidates have definitely announced they will stand at this writing. They are two members of the present council, Councillors Lorne Paynter and Jos. Dales, and Mr. Harry Goodman who announced he would be a candidate just after press-time last week. There are many rumors of other candidates. We hope those rumors will be confirmed. At least no candidate need hesitate to place his name for fear of causing a contest. That line of reasoning was never valid; this time there is no doubt of a contest.

With all respect to the three above-mentioned candidates, we urge all citizens who believe themselves honestly capable of contributing to the welfare of the town to place their names on the ballot. The voters deserve the widest possible choice. This is the first opportunity they have had to correct what has become distressingly evident through the year, that the council as at present constituted has been merely adequate to its duties. It has not provided the leadership it should.

The present council's administration will, we believe, compare favorably with past administrations but in these times of decision, that has not been enough. Now, more than ever before, Newmarket needs an administration which will give the leadership the citizens demand and the town requires if it is to meet the future on equal terms. The need for the right man cannot be over-emphasized.

ANNEXATION WASHED OUT?

It is expected that the municipal board will in the next week or two hand down a decision on Toronto's request for permission to annex its suburban neighbors, a request which was bitterly fought by the neighbors on various grounds, not the least of which was Toronto's incompetency to handle their affairs. It now appears that the city's request will be denied although for reasons other than the one mentioned above. Indications are that the board favors the unification of public services but rejects the establishment of Toronto jurisdiction over the 12 municipalities.

This is essentially what the county proposed as an alternative to annexation by the city. The major argument put forth by the city was that annexation would provide this unification of services. It would reduce the overlapping police forces, the water supply difficulties, the duplication of public utilities. The county agreed that such unification was desirable for the most part, but maintained that the suburban areas were entitled to their own governments, and suggested inter-municipal commissions for public services as a means of achieving the one while maintaining the other.

The North York area has a large stake in the decision. If Toronto is successful, it means that the county area will be greatly reduced. The areas marked for annexation contain the bulk of the county assessment. County spending is not proportionate with taxes received. What would be left of the county after annexation would have a vastly higher tax rate to meet, even to provide minimum county services. Unification of services without amalgamation will preserve the present county tax level.

Another consideration is that if annexation is denied, it may serve as a necessary precedent against bigness in cities. Size may be required as a source of local pride but there is no economic value to it. Indeed, as Toronto's growth has increased, its per capita tax has likewise increased. The assembly line reasoning — the more produced, the cheaper the unit — simply does not apply to municipal operations, but the reverse does. If Toronto were to acquire its suburbs, instead of finding a surcease to its present financial problems, it would increase them. If Toronto is confined, there is at least recognition that a halt to municipal growth can be called, and an attempt to resolve the city's problems can be taken on that basis.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

Having been in on the capture, a few months ago, of William Algonda Voyd, well promoted gunman who was immortalized by the City of Toronto, your favorite correspondent was interested in hearing of his escape again.

According to a Q.P. release, Voyd and his three lieutenants had been quartered in the Don Juan Jail, in separate cells. "Synchronize your watches, boys, and we'll all file out together," Voyd had ordered the night before. The true poet, Voyd decided the time was perfect to engineer a break; he had just read a blast against crime in the city in Saturday afternoon's issue of the Tele-drama.

Yes, Voyd, the poet, chose the perfect time for an escape. I well remember the morning of his capture a few months ago when the cold gaze of the mayor met the cold gaze of Voyd. The shoe was on the other foot as the mayor looked at Voyd in disdain. Now since the Monday morning break, the shoe is on the foot again.

Now the city, the suburbs and the countryside are full of policemen and detectives. Slim Bliggins came into the office Monday afternoon and told us that policemen were up and down the highways, in and out of thickets.

"I suppose they are leaving no stone unturned," I said.

"It's one of the biggest searches ever in these parts," said Slim. "As a matter of fact Doug wouldn't have found his sow at all if it hadn't been for them cops and this here manhunt."

"Doug who and what sow?" I asked.

"Doug Richmond-Ewer, of course, over on the second of Ding township, that farmer over there what dug up the remains of the prehistoric 'GI ville Sideroad Man' a cou of years back."

"Oh, yes, Richmond-Ewer remember him?"

"Well, him and his hired r lost a sow back in the ma and after searchin' unsucc fully for hours, they called police up and said they thout they had Jackson out'n' in swamp."

"Swarms of flatfoots flor the swamp," Slim relt "They beat that marsh so that it was no time when flushed Richmond-Ewer's up."

"As the gendarmies escce Doug's sow up the lane, I mond Ewer explained, 'T Jackson, boys; Voyd's up in barn havin' pigs. Thank very much'."

"I see by the papers that here second Don Juan bra a disgrace to Canada," Slim.

"Yes, it certainly is." "Why is it a disgrace Canada?" said Slim. "It here in the paper that s officials, disgusted and I call it a disgrace to Canad: 'It's a terrible disgrace. rible, terrible,' I said."

"Don't see why any dis has to be pushed off onto ada because of a jail down here in our loc Slim said. by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

Here is a story, and like all stories that have a real moral to them, it needs very little comment; we can all draw our own conclusions.

There is a certain amount of milk produced at the CNE. Those who go to these shows know that it is quite a problem to know what to do with it, especially in smaller towns. However at the CNE there is a solution of sorts. There is a dairy there and it provides a very useful service in accepting the milk. So twice a day the dairymen take their milk to the dairy. Of course it is accepted as straight milk, no butterfat test which is quite conceivable and the men are paid a rather nominal price for it, much less than half of the current price and considerably less than manufacturing price.

Human nature being what it is, somebody had to discover sooner or later that the only way to get ahead in this business is to help the cows a bit in production and the easiest way to do this of course is to take the cans past the water tap on the way to the dairy. Real close, we mean. Now we do not want to imply that this is the general practice or that it is done brazenly. But it is done.

Well, this makes the score even, or to be more exact, nothing to nothing. Absolutely nothing.

You see, here is the perfect set-up for an advertising campaign. You have the producer and the distributor and the consumer, hundreds of thousands of them, all in one big glorious heap. Some men with imagination would say, now let's have a little model dairy set up right here in the CNE building. Then let's have little signs over the top of the cows saying: "This cow's milk goes to the model dairy". Then let's have a slogan saying: "See the road from Moo to you," or some such thing. And t the people see all the gl clean machinery needed duce milk, the filterin cooling, the pasteurizin the bottling.

Mr. R. O. Jinks, a miller, employed at the Beaver Mills, Newmarket, was deprived of the sight of one eye some years ago due to particles of dust becoming lodged on the eye-ball on Thursday last week he went to Toronto to have the eye removed.

Pickering College will re-open next week with an enrolment of over 50 boys. The college has been thoroughly remodelled and decorated and has enlarged sufficiently to provide a boarding school for boys which will include practical training in farming and industrial lines.

Fire broke out in the kitchen of Mr. Harmon's house, Timothy St. E., last Tuesday morning. When the fire brigade arrived the whole interior of the kitchen was in a blaze. However the flames were soon under control. Damage is estimated at $100.

Work will commence next week on widening the gauge of the Metropolitan Railway commencing at the city limits and continuing on to Sutton West. It is expected it will take two months to complete the work but the run from Newmarket to Toronto will be made in 15 minutes less.

Oak Ridges News

Buried in St. John's Cemetery

One of Vaughan township's most highly respected citizens, Giles J. D. Kerswill, 78, passed away at his Jefferson home, Yonge St., Sept. 7, after several weeks' illness. The funeral service was conducted in St. John's Anglican church, Oak Ridges, by the Rev. D. C. H. Mitchell, the rector, on Tuesday afternoon. The remains were interred in the adjoining cemetery.

Mourning his passing are the widow, the former Marie Compton, and three daughters, Mrs. Clifford Rumble (Ella) of Toronto; Mrs. John W. Broughner (Jennie) of Sarnia and Mrs. Roy Holmes (Ruth) of Falconbridge. A son, W.O. James Kerswill, R.C.A.F., was missing and presumed dead in World War II.

Mr. Kerswill was the son of the late Daniel Kerswill, and was born on a farm on the second concession of Vaughan township, south of King and Vaughan townline, which he farmed until six years ago, retiring at Jefferson. He followed his father's footsteps as an ardent member of St. John's church, of which his late father was a founder. He was sidesmen chairman for many years, just prior to his death. Mrs. Kerswill's accident brought on anxiety and worry which later hastened an ailment that medical aid could not avail. He was in hospital for five weeks and was later nursed in his home by his daughters.

The funeral service was largely attended and the floral tributes were testimony to the esteem in which Mr. Kerswill was held by a wide circle of friends. Acting as pall bearers were Frank Burnett, William Bell, Captain S. C. Snively, Neil Dobb, Robert Holmes and John Passmore.

RAVENSHOE

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Keith Smith, who were married last Saturday.

The W. A. supper will be served on Wednesday, Sept. 17. Hostesses are Mrs. A. Hamilton, Mrs. E. Hamilton, Mrs. M. Rutledge, Mrs. J. Rutledge, Mrs. H. Yoemanson, Mrs. L. Glover and Mrs. C. Glover. Supper served from 6 to 8 p.m. Everybody welcome.

Rally Sunday will be held on Sunday, Sept. 21. Please reserve this date.

The anniversary service will be on Sept. 28 with guest speaker and music. Full particulars later.

IT'S A Woman's World

BY CAROLINE ION

If we were to paint a composite picture of the CNE for 1952, it would consist of brilliant flashes of scarlet (the RCMP musical ride), streaks of chartreuse and charcoal (interior decorating highlights), with one corner in the soft, muted colors of an old quilt (hand-craft display), and another showing the metal skeleton of the ferris wheel (midway).

But, over this background would be feet. Little feet standing on tiptoe; aching ones being rubbed; beautifully shod feet of the fashion models; dusty ones from much walking; tired ones with the toe barely resting in the shoe; comfortable ones in stout, sensible walking shoes.

"Meet me at the fountain" may be the pass-word during exhibition time, but it's rivaled by such phrases as, "Oh, my poor, tired feet." Or, "Why, did I wear these high-heeled shoes to the Ex"? Yes, for us it is impossible to think of the exhibition without thinking of feet.

Press Day

Friday, August 29, was press, radio and advertising day at the Canadian National Exhibition. It began, as had the earlier days in the week, with the promise of becoming uncomfortably hot and humid. It fulfilled that prophecy.

Not at all the type of day for gloves, bonnet and such finery as luncheon and tea invitations demand.

Undaunted we started off for the "world's oldest annual exhibition" clutching our mimeographed copy of the program planned for us for the day, our engraved invitation to the afternoon tea from the wives of the officers and directors of the CNE, the letter of invitation from Kate Aitken to the press, radio and advertising women's luncheon as well as a detailed plan of the CNE grounds showing the location of the buildings in which we were to be entertained during the day.

We had been warned by Mrs. A. that this was budget year at the exhibition. Whether the tightening of the purse strings accounted for the staff difficulties encountered that day we are not certain. When we arrived at the secluded shady spot which had been selected for the outdoor buffet luncheon we found the hostess busy under the marquee preparing salads rather than at the entrance calmly awaiting her guests.

The staff had gone on strike that morning. There was Kate Aitken arranging salads, looking

There isn't a homemaker who is unaware of the need for budgeting these days. Money doesn't talk as well as it once did. It was inevitable that some paring of the expense account for the CNE would be introduced.

This year saw the end of the daily women's luncheons. An average of 400 attended each day for the duration of the exhibition. In previous years, these women, prominent in organizations, church, community and charity work, the arts and crafts throughout the province with many coming from the United States and across the Dominion, attended as the guests of the directors and their wives. The luncheons were held as were the afternoon teas in the private balcony, women's building. Novel programs were provided for these guests. Always there were interesting speakers, fashion shows, talented artists. This year, the press and radio women alone were entertained at luncheon.

In Passing
In last week's column we mentioned that we'd returned from our cottage, "Down Elm". That is not as many imagined a derivative of our surnames. It is Cack for "House on the Hill". It is pronounced, "Ben" as in Big Ben and "Yawn" as in, "Gee, I'm Sleepy".

LEARNS SOMETHING NEW

"Something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue"

"Whoever wrote this rhyme must have realized how important blue is to happy home-making. For instance, to get the whitest wash—the kind that makes a bride proud—I've found one must use Rockitt's Blue. Just a swirl or two in the rinse prevents any yellow tinge in any beautiful trousseau, and Rockitt's Blue costs less than two cents a washing."

Champions In News Hereabouts

Parade of Champions: Two Newmarket teen-agers and their mother should be receiving the keys to Canastota from Mayor Joe Vale as a result of their efforts with bow and arrow at the Canadian National Exhibition. Right now, Newmarket can rank with Sherwood Forest as the training school of some of Canada's best archers. Frances Markham, 15, third-year student at Newmarket high, annexed the Canadian junior field archery championship and the Canadian junior clout championship in a field of archers from across Canada. Frances banded out 758 points at 28 wide-spread targets in field archery. The clout section, which is firing from 120 yards at a flat target, saw her leave many seniors far behind. Edna Markham, 14, who started high school this week, took the junior target championship with an accuracy that would have done old Will Tell credit. (Don't take a bet that she can't knock an apple off your head.)

Mother, Pat Markham, up against the strongest female field of archers ever seen in Canada, took the senior women's flight championship, firing for distance with special equipment. The person who got the biggest jolt out of it all was coach-husband-father, Harry Markham, an archer of 10 years experience, who has trained his wife and daughters. Harry competed in the men's section but, as he says, "I had loads of fun." Can't all be winners, but you can still be a "champion." The Markhams moved to Newmarket from Long Branch some three years ago, and the household is full of silverware won in competition. If their efforts have been recognized we'll doff our chapeau to the elite fathers.

Down at Highlands Golf Club, another neat bit of artistry has been performed as Mrs. Ada Garfat for the third straight year has annexed the Mary Lynne (Molyneux) trophy and the club championship for ladies. Mrs. Garfat defeated Pauline McKenzie three up and two to play in the finals. Last Saturday day another champion was crowned as George Thompson defeated by Larry Molyneux in the club championship, took Billy Bell for the Highlands handicap event and the George D. Y. Leacock trophy. A telephone call from Schomberg brought us the news that Ben Boy, Miller Wray's crack two-year-old trotter and holder of the Canadian mile record, had taken the Superstee Stakes at Dresden (Kent Co.) on the holiday, netting Mr. Wray a cool $1,500 for first money. The win definitely gives the Schomberg horse a stronghold on the two-year-old harness championship.

Doug Kearney and Bob Watson, young all-round athletes from Woodbridge, who have been standouts with Brampton Regent Juniors the past three years, are looking forward to a trip to the coast this month. The lads are members of the Brampton Junior lacrosse club who won the Eastern Canada title and now seek the Minto cup.

Victor Blochin saw his West Highland Terriers capture their class honors and win eight blue ribbon events at the C.N.E. His youngsters were especially outstanding, continuing the long-time record of Ben Cruachan Kennels in breeding champions.

To be crowned as champs will be Ontario Legion golfers at Cullen Fields, Guelph, on Sept. 13. Newmarket branch is sending a team. District Legion horsehoes awards will be declared at Newmarket on Saturday, Sept. 20, with Chick Roney as M.C.

The Gar Doellittle trophy was awarded to Lynn Easterbrook. The trophy is presented annually to the Aurora high school student with outstanding ability in athletics and sportsmanship. "Cy" is also an outstanding cadet and a good student and this year will lead Aurora in defence of the Eckhardt trophy. He joins the select company of Don Busby, Ralph Rank, Jack Andrews, Jim Ross and Keith Kyle.

September sittings: Jim Murray, Aurora councillor and sports promoter, brought up the question of flood lights for Aurora the other night at the council board and while nothing came of it then, most of the town fathers seemed to like the idea. Actually, you're getting to be out of style these days without night ball. It's almost as bad as having no artificial ice. Schomberg, Claremont, Agincourt, Newmarket, and even little Lemonville have their arcs going these days.

SNOWBALL

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Storey and family of Trout Creek spent a few days with the former's father, Mr. and Mrs. Art Storey. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hall spent Tuesday at the C.N.E. Mrs. Emma Farren attended the Cunningham and Frugale wedding in Toronto on Saturday. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kerr on the arrival of a third son on Tuesday, Sept. 2, at York County hospital, Newmarket.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sutherland of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gould left on Saturday to spend a few days up at Huntsville, Maple Lake, Haliburton and Norland, returning Tuesday.

MOUNT PISGAH

Many friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith on Tuesday, September 2, to shower Miss Violet Robinson and Mr. Ross Smith with many gifts that will help out in their future life together. Violet and Ross were married at Temperanceville United church on Saturday, September 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Donner and family visited Mrs. Donner's sister and family at Owen Sound for a few days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blizard, Newmarket, and Miss Jean Rose, Maple Hill, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Russ Elias and family.

School days are on up again and our local schools all seem to have larger enrolments. S. S. No. 8, taught by Mrs. Walter Craig, has 26 pupils, including five beginners.

S. S. No. 7 has 64 pupils with 15 of them being six year olds. Mrs. Betty Hazenbarg is in charge of the junior grades and Miss Blanche Tran of the senior classes.

BROWNHILL

Brown Hill Sunday school went to Port Bolster for their Sunday school picnic and enjoyed a beautiful day in the lovely park at Port Bolster. After the treats, prizes and wonderful supper with ice cream, all reported a great day.

May we extend a hearty welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ralph and family to our community.

Mrs. Charles Mitchell has spent a few weeks at a cottage at the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Williamson have gone on a trip to England. We wish them a good holiday and safe return to us.

WATCH FOR POSTERS

To the Ratepayers of the Town of Newmarket

DEAR SIR OR MADAM:

On Monday, September 22nd, 1952, you are being asked to vote on the question of whether you wish to have the Main Street of the Town repaved and for your information I submit herewith the following:

Up to now the centre 22 ft. of Main Street has formed part of the suburban road system of the Toronto and York Roads Commission and has been maintained by it.

It has been intimated to Council that before long Main Street will be taken off the roads system of the Toronto and York Roads Commission and handed back to the Town to maintain. With this in mind the Commission included in its estimates for this year a sum to entirely rebuild this centre 22 ft. This estimate was duly approved by the County of York, the City of Toronto, and the Province of Ontario, the three bodies who supply the funds of the Toronto and York Roads Commission.

It is important to bear in mind that it is extremely unlikely that this approval could be obtained in another year. It is also of interest to note that this approval was obtained in the year that the late J. L. Spillette was Warden of the County of York.

The centre 22 ft. cannot be repaved unless the whole street is done also, and the estimated cost of repaving the whole of Main Street from Water Street to Davis Drive is as follows:

Water Street to Millard Avenue	$ 94,200.00
Millard Avenue to Ontario Street	82,900.00
Ontario Street to Davis Drive	57,870.00

Total estimated cost	$234,970.00
----------------------	--------------

The breakdown of this cost between the Town of Newmarket, the Department of Highways which will pay a grant to the Town for the work and the Toronto and York Roads Commission is as follows:

Toronto and York Roads Commission	$ 82,300.00
Department of Highways Grant	48,200.00
Town of Newmarket	104,500.00
	$234,970.00

This cost will provide the following pavement and sidewalks with new water connections included:

1. At Water Street pavement will be 42 ft. wide and sidewalks 10 ft. wide - an increase in pavement width of about 3 ft.
2. At Timothy Street pavement will be 34 ft. wide and sidewalks 8 ft. wide - an increase in pavement width of about 4 ft.
3. At Millard Avenue pavement will be 34 ft. wide and sidewalks 5'6" wide - an increase in pavement width of about 7 ft.
4. At Ontario Street pavement will be 34 ft. wide and sidewalks 8 ft. wide - very little change in pavement width.
5. From Ontario Street to Davis Drive the pavement will be 46 ft. wide with sidewalks of 10 ft. width - an increase in pavement width of about 8 ft.

To briefly summarize, out of a total estimated cost of $235,000.00 for rebuilding the Main Street the Town will receive $82,300.00 from the Toronto and York Roads Commission, $48,200.00 by way of grant from the Department of Highways, and will be called upon to raise $104,500.00 by way of debenture.

The Town recently sold $125,000.00 4 1/2% debentures at a little above par. On that basis, to retire a debenture issue of $104,500.00 over a period of 20 years would require an additional two mills of taxes. With the growth of the Town continuing it is fair to forecast a steadily increasing assessment which would correspondingly reduce the amount of the tax rate required to retire the annual debt charge.

Again with a new pavement the cost of maintenance should be negligible, at least during the first ten years. It is hard to give you any accurate estimate of the amount spent annually in maintenance over the past 10 years but informed estimates have been as high as $4,000.00, and certainly it could not be less than $2,000.00. This saving set off against the annual debt charge could reduce the increase in the tax rate to as low as one mill.

I trust that the foregoing will assist you in deciding whether to vote for or against the repaving of Main Street on September 22, 1952.

Yours faithfully,

JOSEPH VALE
MAYOR.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

It was on a humid night in early July with St. Louis Browns and Cleveland Indians battling desperately in a low-scoring American League baseball game, that a slim, wiry Negro was called from the St. Louis bullpen, and rushed to the mound in emergency.

Ordinarily, this wouldn't be unusual. But this Negro was at least 50 years old. Perhaps more. Yet for inning after inning, he stood on the pitching hill, defying the power of Cleveland's heavy-hitting team to score a run off him.

Inning after inning, he flung his pitching wizardry at the enemy. Baffled by his streaking fast ball, his tantalizing curves, the power-house team went runless. Not until ten scoreless innings had been pitched by this veteran Negro, did Cleveland break through with the winner.

The Negro was Satchell Paige, one of baseball's most fabulous personalities. And this, his second such effort of the season, rates, we think as one of the great feats of the baseball year, something to enthuse those who like to see a wrong righted.

The wrong was this: Here is a man who was probably the finest pitcher of his time, and his time was long. But he had no chance to prove it.

Seems to us we have heard of the feats of "Old Satch" ever since we started growing up, though literally that can't be true. Competent baseball men told us for years that Paige would burn up either big league, given the opportunity.

At a late date in life, at an age when most ballplayers are not good enough for minor leagues even, Satchell Paige got his belated chance.

For fame came late to Satchell. It was not until the twilight of his amazing career that he was given a chance to pitch in the big leagues - by Bill Veeck at Cleveland. There, in 1948, he got a chance to pitch in his first World Series.

You can spend some time speculating what a pitcher Paige must have been 20 years ago, when there was more steel and rubber in his pitching-arm. That today he could, at his age, pitch 10 scoreless innings in top company makes one stand ready to believe any legendary tale they tell of "Old Satch's" fabulous exploits - 2,000 games pitched in 20 years, for instance. That's a game every 3 1/2 days, the year 'round! "Satch" probably did it.

An amazing figure, and a notable addition to the list of those who prove that while life may begin at 40, competitive life doesn't end there. In sport, with such exhibits as Willie Hoppe, Jersey Joe Walcott, Bob Fitzsimmons, and Bill Cook offered on behalf of the defence.

Town League Finals Tied

Bill VanZant's four-hitter, coupled with a three-run outburst in the third carried Hoffman to a 4-3 win over Specialty last night. The town league finals now stand at a game each. Third game Friday at 8 chimes.

SPECIALTY WINS SECOND
Although outlived 7-3, Office Specialty did enough timely clubbing and Hoffman committed enough miscues to allow the Specialty to pick up a 4-3 decision in game two of the town league finals.

The large Monday night audience saw Bernard Kay start the game with a single and Bun Cook drive a ground skimmer at Scoop Blight at third. Blighty scanned it up and pegged to second for an attempted force out. The throw eluded Freddie Dillman, and both runners scored and Specialty were 2-0 leaders. They increased their margin to 4-0 in the third, scoring two runs on John Hisey's walk and Bernard Kay's second hit.

Hoffman catapulted back into the game with two runs in the third on consecutive hits by Fred Dillman, Ortie Thoms and Bill VanZant. Both Bill VanZant and John Shedlowick stood off further attempts at scoring until the last of seventh. Hoffman fired their last in the seventh as Don Gibson, Fred Dillman and Ortie Thoms hit safely. It was good for one run—but fell one short of the tying counter.

Bill VanZant pitched three-hit ball—good enough to win most games. John Shedlowick allowed seven but was steady as a rock in the tight spots. Bernard Kay had two hits and Wilf Elsbey collected the other safety. Ortie Thoms was Hoffman big gun with two triples.

TIE OPENER
Specialty and Hoffman got off on a weird, rough and rousing note Friday. When the smoke had cleared and the last verbal brick-bat was thrown, the teams had battled to a 7-all tie in the first of a best four out of seven series.

Hoffman protected a 7-3 lead heading into the last of the seventh. Bill VanZant, in and out of trying pan, needed just three men to bag the win but it didn't work out that way. A pair of errors, two walks and singles by Bruce Andrews and John Shedlowick fused a four-run Specialty rally to tie it.

The Specialty would have snatched the decision except for Ortie Thoms' perfect pitch from centerfield that nipped Bruce Andrews at the platter. That brought about a sustained rharb as to whether the teams should crack the tie or go home with a point apiece. After several shoving exchanges and calls for the rule book they settled for a tie.

OUT BELL FROM SEMIS
One of Morley Cook's low pitches bounded away from catcher Mickey Smith to set up Hoffman with a 6-5 win over Thompson-Bell at the fair grounds last Wednesday. That

Ladies Win First Of Finals

Newmarket ladies are one game away from annexing the P.W.S.U. intermediate title. Saturday at the fair grounds, on the strength of Hester Clark's stirring three-hit relief pitching, the local ladies spilled Midland Monarchs 9-7.

Game two in the best of three finals will be played at Penitang Saturday at 2:30. Should a third game be required, perish the thought, it will also be played Saturday in Penitang at 8 chimes.

Newmarket looked at death's door in the third when Midland flew into Sarah Barradell's pitches for four hits and five runs. That's when Coach Charlie VanZant, biting his finger nails up to the elbows, made his big move, shooting in Hester Clark to do the hurling and keeping Sarah Barradell in the game at second base, just in case.

Hester Clark immediately went to work to silence Midland on

Specialty Trips Mount

Another chapter in the summer-long struggles between the town leaguers and their Lake Simcoe league opposites was written under the lights at the fair grounds last Wednesday. Mount Albert, patiently standing by for Zephyr Blues and Pine Orchard to declare a semi-final winner, were guests in an exhibition "to do" with Office Specialty.

The two teams put on a tidy softball show before Office Specialty poked out a 5-3 win. The Mounties liked what Lefty Glover had to offer and were off to a flying 2-0 start on hits by Dave Couch, Harold Stephenson, Doug Simpson and Horner Rutledge.

Office Specialty roared back with a matching pair in the second and secured on a missed third strike, a pair of Mountie bobbles and Charlie VanZant's single. Kelly Case's single put Mount ahead 3-2 in the third before Office Specialty sewed it up on a walk, an error, Jerry Hugs's double and Charlie VanZant's second hit. That flurry was good for three runs and the ball game.

HASHMAN AWARD

For Pitching Effort

Bill VanZant has turned in two outstanding pitching efforts in the town league finals. That's why the Specialty and Hoffman are tied at a game each right now. Bill lost a tough three hitter Monday. Wednesday William gave up four hits and won 4-3.

Those pitching tries have been the high spots in the dramatic show-down series to date. This week we're naming Bill VanZant for the Hashman award and Roxy Theatre pass on the strength of those two well pitched games. Incidentally fans, if you haven't been taking in the town league finals, better do so pronto. The two teams have been furnishing the best softball of the year here, there or anywhere. They go again Friday at eight chimes.

Haskett's HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

So you thought the mushball campaign might close this week? Hold the phone. Pine Orchard and Zephyr Blues will be in under the lights to settle their Lake Simcoe semi-final series. They'll go two out of three so we're sure of games tonight and Tuesday.

What a series that should be. Both teams are evenly matched. Here's a warning to local softball filberts: better be there early or you'll have to climb a tree to watch proceedings. Personally, this paragraph is as tickled as a great Dane behind a meat counter to see the Simcoe league teams make use of the lights. That's what they're there for and under the lights, both teams will have an equal opportunity of winning the series.

While we're on the subject, your paragraph is a little browned off on the fair grounds set-up. We started out with big plans to make it a Hub show place. Outside of the lights, we haven't gotten very far. Things that need doing over there include getting the track in shape, a football field started and the bleachers repaired or better still, the grandstand moved over beside the diamond.

This season, in O.B.A. and P.W.S.U. actions we have entertained a number of outside teams. The first thing they ask is: Where do we change? We just have to shrug our shoulders and believe me, they don't go away with any great regard for our set-up.

If the grandstand was moved over, dressing rooms, storage space for equipment and a snack bar could be built under it and everything would be right there handy. It is certainly something to think about and now is the time a blue print should be laid down so that these tasks could be accomplished over the next couple of seasons.

Sport, we figure, is one of the best mediums for advertising the Hub across the province and we like to hear the visiting teams going away with a good word for Newmarket. Our Optimist baseball teams, by reaching the Ontario finals two years in a row and with a good show of sportsmanship, did extra fine work in this respect. The ardent fan has a long memory too. One Milton fan surprised us with "It's 22 years since Newmarket was here with a hardball team".

Diamond dust: While it's a little late, perhaps, congratulations to those busy Keswick and North Gwillimbury sportsmen on their opening of their new softball pitch. When completed it should produce one of the best diamonds in the Simcoe circuit. Work, we notice, has started on Vaudor's new park. That's good news for the fans in that district.

Sutton defeated Stouffville in west division tri-county finals. Simcoe softballers aiding in the Sutton triumph were Tommy Hare, Ted Anderson, Don Cameron, Ron Rowe and Don Trivett. If it should happen we're not saying it will—that Zephyr and Mount Albert meet in the Simcoe finals—how will Coach Gladys Rolling keep peace among her softball flock?

Four of Mount Albert gals, Reta Longhurst, Lois Morrison, Betty Meyers and Marilyn Morrison, hail from Zephyr and environs and are bound to root for the Blues. The rest naturally will whoop and holler for the good old Mounties.

Mount ladies and Geo. Watt's

Mount Takes Opener

Mount Albert ladies got away to a winning start in defense of their Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies' softball league title by defeating Newmarket Pin-ups 12-8 in Mt. Albert Tuesday. It was game one in best four of seven title series. Game two will be aired at the fair grounds Friday at 11:30 p.m., games three at Mount Albert Tuesday.

Pin-ups rode herd on Marguerite Green, Mountie ace, for an 8-3 lead in the third. Mount gals made the home fans as happy as a flock of geese around a dog pound by roaring back to top the decision with a five-run fifth inning.

Juan Quinn, Marilyn Lee, Glenna Woodhouse and Loretta Forhan reeled off the main Pin-up batting punch. Ruth Simpson, Reta Longhurst and Marguerite Green kept up their hitting habits to spark the Mounties.

Blues, Orchard To Settle Semis Under Hub Lights

A new chapter will be written in the Hub sport record next week. Pine Orchard and Zephyr Blues have been battling a fortnight now to get their Lake Simcoe semi-final series settled. The sides have played six games and they have a win each. The other four have been wiped off the slate due to darkness and ties.

League executive have decided to throw the two teams at each other tonight under the Newmarket lights. The teams are as evenly matched as a pair of newly minted quarters—they play top flight softball and every fan from here to Gum Swamp will be on hand to root for their favorites. The two teams will play a best two out of three series under the local lights with the second game carded for next Tuesday. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

CANT' DECLARE WINNERS

Pine Orchard and Zephyr Blues are still at it hammer and tongs in their attempt to declare a Lake Simcoe softball league semi-final winner. The two evenly matched teams have battled six times to date and all they have to show for it is a win apiece.

One of those six games was a tie while two others ran into darkness. The winner, if they can get it through before the snow flies, tackles Mount Albert for the league title.

Friday, the third and decider, so booked, went down to the first of the seventh, Pine Orchard leading 11-4, before Umpire Cec. Carpenter called a halt for darkness. The two games "dood it" again Monday with the same result, games stopped for darkness. This time the Blues were topside 10-9 in the bottom of the sixth.

Friday's encounter was a 5-all ball game down to the sixth. Pine Orchard got for four runs in the sixth and three in the seventh for a comfortable lead. Howie Ash's one-on homer and Andy Lloyd's two-on homer sparked the Orchard's late rally.

Pin-ups get in finals

Harvesting 26 hits, including home run smashes by Isobel Rogers and Kay Diceman, a triple and a double by Marlene Martin and a double by Betty McArthur, Newmarket Pin-ups bashed Keswick Lakesides 23-12 in a Lake Simcoe junior ladies softball league semi-final contest at the fair grounds Friday.

The victory gave the Pin-ups the best of five semi-final round three games to one and qualified the Geo. Watt clan to meet Mt. Albert for the league diadem.

Pin-ups, leading 10-7, sent 15 batters to the plate for an 11-run uprising in the fifth to apply the clincher. Coach Gord. Hare's starting tosser, Lil Worrall, took the early battering from the Pin-ups before Lynn Thompson came in to zipper shut the rally.

Keswick turned on their tormentors for five runs in the sixth for their abject show of keeping in the playoff whirl. Keswick registered this rally against Glenna Woodhouse who took over the pitching from Kay Diceman in the third.

Pin-ups played and hit like coming champs. Marilyn Lee five, Helen Tennant, Marlene Martin and Betty McArthur four each were the deluxe swingers. Third sacker Barbara Gwilliams, short-stopper Joan Quinn and center fielder Helen Tennant stole Keswick hit attempts with alert defensive play. Grace Paterson topped the Keswick hit marks with four and it was two each for Grace Curtis, including a four buser, Kay Peters and Beverly Heaton.

Keswick: G. Curtis of, K. Peters lf, G. Peters c, L. Worrall p, L. Thompson 3b, R. Peters 1b, B. Heaton ss, H. Porter rf, R. York 2b.

Newmarket: J. Quinn ss, M. Lee 1b, H. Tennant cf, B. Gwilliams 3b, M. Martin rf, B. McArthur 2b, L. Rogers c, K. Diceman p, G. Woodhouse p, L. Forhan lf.

Diggers vs. Service In Doubt, Storagemen Sure Finalist

Tonight (Thursday), Ditch Diggers and Civil Service will swing back into action in Aurora Town Park in an attempt to produce a winner in their Aurora town league semi-final series. Civil Service hold a 1-0 edge in games and can sew up the series with a victory tonight.

The defending champion Ditch Diggers can prolong the set and force a third and deciding game Monday with a victory. Series survivor is scheduled to go against the Queen City Storage in the finals. "We're planning on a three-game schedule next week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday," reports league president Len Holman.

The wise boys are saying the Storagemen will cop the honors this year but either the Diggers or the greatly improved Civil Service tribe could knock off the favorites in the finals.

The hustle and bustle of the semi-finals has brought out the largest crowds of the season and they'll increase when the finals roll around. Concluding games in the semi-finals and finals are scheduled to start at 6:30 p.m.

TIE TUESDAY

Ditch Diggers and Civil Service are providing a pressure cooker semi-final series. They're still at it and may be for a month the way things are going. Servicemen hold a game edge with a win in game one of the best of three round. Diggersmen supposedly won game two 6-5 but saw the game erased from the record sheets by an executive ruling owing to "umpire's misinterpretation of the dead ball rule".

They'll try again tonight to settle it. If not, a third game goes Monday. Tuesday night, the teams battled to an 8-all tie. The teams came out of a hectic scoring first innings with Ditch Diggers leading 5-3. Two runs in both the second and third gave the Servicemen a 7-5 edge. Diggers drew even with two in the fourth and went ahead 8-7 in the fifth on Mickey Sutton's double and Howie Timbers' single.

Mickey Sutton, who relieved Bill Mundell on the Diggers' rubber in the third, was in deep trouble in the last of the sixth as Jimmy Greenslade and Red Craig drew a bead for triples to tie the score. Mickey got out of it without further scoring damage as Charlie Sutton skied out with the sacks populated. Red Craig came on in the sixth to assume the Servicemen's pitching burden from Jimmy Greenslade and checked the Diggers without a hit.

Propose Immediate Steps For Widening Of Yonge Street: 6-3 Vote In Favor Of Meter

A regular meeting of the town council, with Mayor Rose in the chair, was held on Monday night, Sept. 8, with all members present. There were three outstanding matters on the agenda, tenders for Kennedy street sewers; public school debentures; and the meters.

After the passing of accounts, whether parking meters were to stay in or go out, Councillor Jones said he was still strongly opposed to them. Mr. Jones said he did not like the idea of taxing people who came to their town. He would vote against the meters.

Reeve Cook said he had given a great deal of thought to the subject since meters were first brought into the town. He was now of the opinion that the presence of meters in towns showed they were going ahead. "We are now in the meter age," said the reeve, "and motorists should pay for services." There was a good revenue from the meters and he must vote for them.

Councillor Corbett maintained that the people should have a chance to vote on the meters. He was strongly opposed to them and hoped council would pass a motion to put them out.

Meter Company's Refusal
Councillor D. J. Murray stated that he had visited the meter company and asked for an extension of time so that the people could have an opportunity of saying whether or not they wanted meters. The company had pointed out, however, that they could not agree to extend the trial period, pointing out that use could be made of the meters if Aurora did not want them. In these circumstances a decision would have to be made that night.

Mr. Murray said if the same amount of efficiency had been used in keeping up the street parking regulations as had been used in putting tags on cars, there would have been no need for meters. "Take the meters out," said Mr. Murray, "and in their place apply a strict observation of one hour's parking regulations."

Councillor Davis said he would support a vote in favor of meters. Meters had removed the dangers of double parking.

Other Views
Councillor Tucker said meters had definitely improved parking laws. He considered, however, that some adjustments should be made in regard to the location of some of the meters. He was also of the opinion that Wednesday afternoons should be exempted from meter regulations. Subject to such adjustments he was in favor of meters.

Deputy-Reeve Murray maintained that the meters had improved parking on the Main St. They had removed double parking. He thought that merchants should clean up their backyards for the public to use. "Meters have served a purpose," said the deputy-reeve, "and he was in favor of them, though he believed there should be a shake-up in their locations." The deputy-reeve said he would vote for retaining them.

Councillor King said that meters had served a purpose and he was in favor of them.

Winding up the discussion, Mayor Rose congratulated members of council on the high calibre of the debate. He said that opinions expressed had reflected a great deal of observation. "Parking meters in a town," said the mayor, "denoted progress."

Go Ahead, If . . .
Councillor D. J. Murray said he favored going ahead with the work subject to an agreement that the provincial government would defray 50 percent of the costs.

Mayor Rose said they should proceed with the work as soon as it was possible to do so.

Councillor King was of the opinion that Yonge St. was not in such bad shape and there were many sidewalks in town in need of attention.

Deputy-Reeve Murray, while agreeing with Councillor King, was of the opinion that Yonge St. should first have attention and town sidewalks dealt with next year.

Concluding a long discussion, it was finally resolved that immediate steps be taken to obtain an agreement with the municipal branch of the department of highways, to enable a decision being taken at a special meeting of council, which Mayor Rose said was being called for Friday evening, Sept. 12.

AURORA PUBLIC SCHOOL

In another column readers will find a statement of estimated costs in connection with the purchase and renovation of the former High school for use as a Public school. The statement was presented to council in March of this year by Dr. Henderson in support of the application by the school board for an additional grant of $35,000 over and above the $250,000 which the 1951 council granted the board.

At the time the 1951 council made the $250,000 grant, the chairman of the board, Dr. Henderson, stated that it would be more than enough since it included the amount of $10,000 for contingencies. Having regard to these recorded facts, several members of the 1952 council expressed their surprise that a further application for an additional $35,000 should be made.

Dr. Henderson, on behalf of the board, first made a verbal application for the extra grant, but in view of the questioning that the application provoked he undertook to present council with a schedule of the additional costs. When the schedule was presented he requested that it should not be made public at that time for the reason that, as he claimed, it might prejudice contractors' prices.

The additions, remodelling and renovation work are now about completed and the school opened. Aurora News Page has repeatedly asked for statements of costs in regard to undertakings which in bulk the taxpayers have to pay. In publishing the schedule the taxpayers will now be able to see for themselves the costs as presented to council.

Several members of council questioned certain major costs, but in the end the additional $35,000 was approved by council, with the single exception of Councillor D. J. Murray, who voted against it.

NATIONAL HEALTH INSURANCE

It is not our practice to discuss either provincial or federal questions in this column. It is our belief that readers prefer discussion of local matters in their local weekly, and in that belief we have maintained this column chiefly as a medium of comment on Aurora affairs.

National health insurance may well, however, become a subject of discussion in Aurora as in all Canadian communities. It is suggested that it may take a paramount place in policies advocated by the present government at such time as it is dissolved and seeks a new tenure of office. It was projected by the Liberal government under the premiership of the late MacKenzie King, but the outbreak of war put it in abeyance.

National health insurance is a subject of the most imperative interest to large numbers of Canadian workers. Hospitalization costs are a constant dread in their lives. We have learned of instances where family savings, accumulated by frugal living and many self-denials, have been swallowed up through a few weeks in hospital, and of other cases where heavy debts have been incurred to meet costs.

Canada leads the world in so many major matters that such things ought not to be. Canadian citizens ought to feel free from the mental worries of not knowing what steps to take when sickness deprives them of their means of livelihood. It is not in the national interest that people should feel compelled to defer urgent hospital and medical care because of lack of personal funds.

It could be true that more people in Canada today fear the cost of personal illness much more than they fear anything else.

LIVING IN FEAR

It is profoundly prejudicial to the moral, spiritual and physical health of a nation when a large majority of its citizens live and work in fear of a breakdown the costs of which they cannot possibly meet.

As the facts show, Germany led the world in the care of its people before the emergence of World War I. So much was this the case that its health insurance services were copied by the British government, whose then chancellor, David Lloyd George, introduced a national health bill in the year 1911.

Since that year successive British governments have implemented health insurance services until at this present time the British people have the best national health protection in the entire world. Despite all the austerities which the British people have called on to endure, the health and well-being of the nation at this present time is the best in its history.

This is accountable for by the unsurpassed health services originating from the national insurance system initiated by Lloyd George and the free hospitalization which the British people enjoy. In the latter case of free hospitalization, immense charitable gifts to hospitals have in many instances made of them the finest institutions for medical care in the world.

Two things the Canadian people, it appears, fear most of all: Costs of sickness and costs of burial. Both need to be overhauled.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

Three Famous Weekly Editors Aurora Music Honors At CNE: The Mecca Of Air Travellers

Looking through old newspapers can prove an interesting experience. We have been reading an issue of the Calgary Eye Opener dated Saturday, January 13, 1912, and The New Era dated Friday, June 23, 1854. The editor of the Calgary Eye Opener was R. C. Edwards and Erastus Jackson was the editor of the Era.

Both were celebrated editors. R. C. Edwards won the reputation of being the hardest-hitting editor in Canada. As his columns, "Eye Openers", show, he was a most versatile writer. His paragraphs contain humor, irony, satire, and straight-forward blunt writing.

Erastus Jackson was notable, among other things, for his long tenure of the editorship of the Era, maintaining that position for nearly half a century. His sister was the wife of A. F. Stevenson, editor of the Aurora Borealis, which for many years was a successful local paper.

Incidentally, Mr. Stevenson was survived by a son and daughter, and both are very much alive. They are Mr. Ashton G. Stevenson, who resides in Florida, and became famous for his inventions for linotype and inter-type machines, and Dr. Alberta M. Cross, who, with her husband, Dr. W. H. Cross, won fame in the science of chiropractic. They have a home in Toronto, and a summer home in Muskoka.

Mr. Ashton G. Stevenson has over 30 inventions on the record, the better known of these being the Chicago line-tablet system, the Stevenson furniture mold, and the Stevenson extensible liner. He has been in retirement in Florida for over 17 years. He retains nostalgic memories of Aurora and of old friends here, and we hear from him occasionally.

The "Eye Opener"
The issue we have is four-page, of a size similar to the Globe and Mail. It contains a number of cartoons. One of these, on the front page, shows the figure of a dismal, decimated-looking goat standing in a barren wilderness. Entitled "The Goat," the reading is: "As Edmonton would have Calgary, if we would stand for it."

Another cartoon entitled "The Dove of Peace," shows the figure of a fierce-looking man loaded up with many weapons of war, with a box of dynamite at his feet. The cartoon is supposed to represent world prospects in the first month of the year 1912.

A typical Edwards editorial comment in the "Eye Opener" reads: "Success has failed. Success was a magazine advocating a policy that closely matched its name. It tried to show men how to succeed. Those who were succeeding didn't have the time to read it, and those who didn't succeed didn't have the money to buy it. And there you are." The editor of the Calgary Eye Opener was a graduate of Glasgow university.

"The New Era"
The New Era, predecessor of The Newmarket Era, and later still of the Newmarket Era and Express, was established in the year 1852 by the brothers Jackson. Erastus Jackson probably holds the record for editorial longevity in Canada, covering about half a century.

He, too, was a versatile and hard-hitting writer, as the editorials in the issue of June 23, 1854, fully demonstrate. The editorial page is taken up entirely with comment and parliamentary reports. It is a four-page issue and then, as now, contains a large number of advertisements.

It is described as a newspaper devoted to "News, politics, agriculture, science and amusement." It lived fully up to these descriptions. We are obliged to Mrs. Charles Webster for a sight of these old papers.

Home From England
Mr. and Mrs. J. B. E. Garstang and family returned to Aurora last week after a three months' vacation in England. They report having had a thoroughly enjoyable holiday, spent with relatives and friends.

Commenting on the mood of the English people at the present time, to the extent of his personal observations, Mr. Garstang said there was a happier all-round demeanor evident, despite the numerous restrictions and shortages which are still in effect.

One noticeable feature in British newspapers was the complete absence of war news or comment thereon. This might indicate one of two possibilities: Either British newspapers are less prone to the sensational than the North American press, or that British nerves are steadier.

On the homeward voyage, which was made on the Queen Elizabeth, the passengers had an experience of hurricane weather two days from New York. The ship was held up for ten minutes while a considerable number of broken portholes were repaired by a small army of workmen. Despite this delay, however, the Queen Elizabeth docked only three quarters of an hour late.

While they had a delightful vacation in England, Mr. and Mrs. Garstang expressed their pleasure at being home again.

Mr. Garstang and daughter, Philippa, spent some time in France during their vacation.

Proof Of Popularity
For the first six months of 1952, ending June 26, the Era and Express carried 3,587 classified ads as compared with its nearest competitor, the Aurora Banner, which carried 1,342 classified ads for the same period. The proof of popularity is in the figures.

C.N.E. Successes
Pupils of Mr. Illyd Harris, competing at the Canadian National Exhibition music competitions, under adjudicator Filmer Hubble of Winnipeg, brought further honors to Aurora and Newmarket.

Jean Barnes, competing in the class for girls under 11 years of age, won the gold medal for the third consecutive year. This is the sixth gold medal Jean has won during the present year.

For girls under 17 years of age, Margaret Barrager won the gold medal. Patrick Green was the gold medalist in the open choir boys class and took third place in the secular class.

Ken Stephens of Newmarket won second place in the open bass class, third place being taken by Ted McClenny.

Lorna Elmer took a third in the class for girls under 13 years of age.

Ken Stephens of Newmarket, and Margaret Barrager of Aurora were chosen to compete for the $500 scholarship award.

Congratulations to the winners of these fine achievements and to their renowned tutor.

A Sunday Discovery!
On Sunday last, in the company of some friends, we motored to Milton airport. We had not previously seen this mecca of air travellers and therefore the journey meant for us something in the nature of a discovery.

Dr. Mulligan

Small men, with a claim to some military or civilian tag to their names, are often inflicted with such a measure of conceit that their public and private manners are insufferable. In Shakespeare's words: "They cut such capers as would make the very angels weep."

Bigger men, of outstanding mental ability and academic achievements, are usually shy and often self-effacing. Unless they are called on to perform some public office, their knowledge never becomes self-evident. In their private lives they are easy to get along with. They are never patronizing. They put people at ease by the niceness of their manners, and their ability at concealing their cleverness and knowledge.

Casual Conversation
In casual, every-day conversation Dr. Mulligan puts everybody at ease. He is mentally too big a man to cut capers. He is jocular and very approachable. He has the Irish genius for witty remarks and can enjoy a good joke. But the same Irish qualities enable him immediately to become deadly serious. He is in every sense of the word, a man's man.

At his home on Spruce street you can see a collection of books that probably cannot be surpassed in all of Canada as a private library. It is a scholar's library, composed of the world's best classical and general literature. It would be difficult to name any outstanding work that is not included in Dr. Mulligan's collection, numbering many thousands of volumes.

In casual conversation with the reverend doctor you would never hear of this superb possession, which represents many years of careful selection. What the majority of men have spent on a variety of pleasures, Dr. Mulligan has devoted to books. Some men are judged by what they wear on their backs. Dr. Mulligan must be judged by what is contained in his scholarly mind.

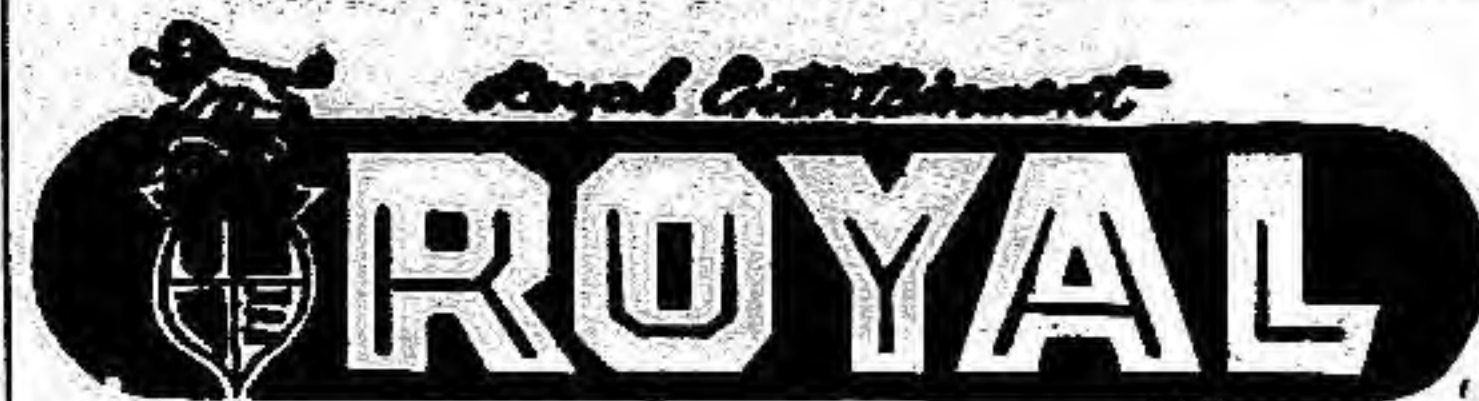

Academic Honors
Passing from the old Royal University of Ireland, he gained a B.A. at Manitoba University, in philosophy and classics. At Dalhousie University he gained his M.A. degree in history and economics (Page 12, Col. 3)

Tells Of Nursery School

A meeting of the Aurora Nursery School was held at the home of Mrs. Larry Rubin, on Wednesday, Sept. 3. Mrs. Rubin told of the nursery school's steady progress since its beginning two years ago. She went on to say that the nursery school was not just a makeshift affair but that it had to pass the rigid qualifications of the department of public welfare of Ontario as far as an adequate room, fire escapes, general surroundings, and equipment were concerned.

When the department is completely satisfied with all these qualifications the school is then given a license.

The teacher for the school must have a special course no matter what previous experience she may have had. This course is under the direction of the department of welfare also, and takes eight weeks to complete.

With the schooling situation as it is here now nursery is a must for the children who are going to miss kindergarten because of age. Nursery school gives them a start in the right direction; it is not simply a place to leave your children five mornings a week, but a place to send them for a very low cost for pre-school development under expert direction.

Mrs. Hines, the teacher, took over the rest of the meeting and told the mothers of the very interesting morning the children have. She described the various toys and play centres the school has, such as the kitchen corner, which has been copied by the schools in the city. She told of how the children enjoy the musical and story periods. The children are taught to undress and dress themselves as much as possible in the winter time, and to also learn to share the toys with one another.

The children also get a painting period when they are allowed to express themselves freely with color. The children have a rest period of ten minutes every morning and have a glass of fruit juice. During rest period each child stretches out on their blanket and sometimes a record of soft music is played to help them relax.

The school is regularly inspected by the department of public welfare and on one of these inspections last year the inspector, Miss Panabaker, was so pleased with the wonderful equipment and routine the school had, that she wrote a very complimentary letter commending the school and Mrs. Hines on the fine work it was doing.

A question and answer period followed Mrs. Hines' report, and the meeting closed on a note of enthusiasm and the realization of the worthiness of the effort this group of enterprising women are putting forth.

John and Donna Graham of Woodbridge, left, were vocal duet winners in the CNE music class for children under 12. On the right is Pat Green of Aurora who was judged the best singer in the choir boy group. Pat is a pupil of Iltyd Harris, Aurora.

At Manitoba theological college he gained a B.D. degree in Christian ethics and sociology, and later graduated from Princeton theological seminary under the great Henry Van Dyke.

At Manitoba law school he won the degree of LL.B., and from the Presbyterian college, Montreal, he won the D.D. degree for scholarship and services to the church, later pursuing graduate studies in Canadian history at McGill University.

Dr. Mulligan's career in the church has been distinguished by the endowment of many honors. Moderator of the Halifax Presbytery in 1925, he was later clerk of the Presbytery of P.E.I., moderator of the Presbytery of Cape Breton and Newfoundland, and moderator of the Synod of Montreal and Ottawa.

He has served on nearly all the important boards and committees of the Presbyterian church, and had the rare honor of being chosen chairman of the board of education, serving for four years in that capacity. He served on the board of administration and later again on the board of education, and was clerk of the senate of the Presbyterian college for many years.

Dr. Mulligan was also convener of the immigration committee in Montreal for 15 years. Pastors:

Dr. Mulligan has held many pastorates: Bedford Presbyterian church, near Halifax; St. James' church, Charlottetown, P.E.I., one of Canada's most historic edifices, and among his congregation were the last Governor of the province, the ex-Lieut-Governor, the Chief Justice of the province, and a varied community composed of many classes.

Then to St. Andrew's, Sydney, Cape Breton, N.S., and old-established congregation in a mining community. St. Andrew's has a fine record of able ministers and a generous people.

For nearly 20 years Dr. Mulligan was in charge of Melville church, Westmount, Quebec, in what has been called the "city of the millionaires". From Quebec he came to St. Andrew's, Aurora.

Distinguished Record

At school with Canada's minister of agriculture, the Rt. Hon. J. G. Gardiner, and the Hon. Joseph I. Horson, president of the Exchequer Court of Canada, Dr. Mulligan passed up a political and legal career in the west. He passed up a journalistic one, too. For several years he contributed to the old Winnipeg Telegram, handling college and sports news.

During World War I Dr. Mulligan was Education Director with the British Y.M.C.A. with the army of occupation in Germany. His headquarters were at Bonn. For his services he received a high citation from the British Y.M.C.A.

In 1917, Dr. and Mrs. Mulligan (who, incidentally, holds a B.A. degree) were in the Halifax explosion and assisted in the care of the unidentified dead.

Author of a number of pamphlets, Dr. Mulligan has written what has been described as the authoritative study of the Canadian Boundary Questions.

In his present pastorate of St. Andrew's, Aurora, Dr. Mulligan succeeded a number of able predecessors, among whom may be mentioned Professor Stanley Glenn, now of Knox College, and the Rev. George H. Dix, now in charge of some reformatories' work in Ontario.

In "The Vicar of Wakefield," Dr. Mulligan's fellow-countryman, Oliver Goldsmith, wrote: "And more and more the wonder grew, that one small head could carry all he knew." Dr. Mulligan carries his knowledge and his honors without affectation.

Aurora News Page takes pride in adding a brief review of his distinguished record to its series of Aurora Personalities.

COUNCIL REPORT

He thought, however, there should be no parking fees on Wednesday. He pointed out that Chief Danham was strongly in support of meters, and regretted that a letter which the chief had written was not available at the moment. He would like to have heard it read to council.

The Vote

Councillor Tucker moved, and Councillor King seconded, the motion that meters be retained, subject to adjustments being made in their location.

Councillor D. J. Murray moved an amendment, seconded by Councillor Jones, that parking meters be removed and one hour parking regulations be enforced in their place.

Councillors Corbett, Jones and Murray voted for the amendment, which was declared lost.

Councillor Jones then asked for a recorded vote on the motion to retain meters.

The vote in favor of retaining meters was as follows: Mayor Rose, Reeve Cook, Deputy-Reeve Murray, Councillors Davis, King and Tucker. Voting against the motion were Councillors Corbett, Jones and Murray.

A vote in favor of retaining the meters was therefore carried by six to three.

Council adjourned at 12.30 p.m.

(A detailed review of the foregoing council proceedings will appear in our "Council Sidelines" in next week's issue. Ed.)

runway, with its load of passengers, for an overhaul of one of its giant wings.

This was a four-engine plane. It left its station slowly but exuding gigantic power from its throbbing engines. We waited to see its ascent, but instead it returned and soon a number of workmen were clambering onto its left wing. A few of the passengers emerged to see what was going on. In about half an hour it began its journey again, and this time it rose majestically and was soon lost to view.

Comment from one onlooker was to the effect that a return for repairs, once the plane had left the airport on its outward journey, would have produced a "jittery sensation", and the comment was shared by others. The record of the Trans-Canada airlines is, however, magnificent. Travel by plane is now as safe as any other means of transport, and a good deal safer, by ratio of figures, than road travel.

Milton airport provides a scene of tremendous activity and is in many ways an enthralling spectacle, with queues of travellers coming from and going to these massive transports of the air. Merit flow the English channel for the first time in the year 1999. One wonders what that daring pioneer would think of a sight of Milton airport today!

Sunday was a matchless summer's day and we enjoyed immensely the few hours' trip through lovely country, with trees just beginning to be touched with the first gold of autumn, and the airport which, for us, at any rate, was a truly wonderful "discovery".

A Reader Says

"Life mostly consists of doing the things we don't like," and adds: "Of the things we like and don't like, we usually have more of the things we like than those we don't like." Roughly interpreted, this would appear to mean: "Do your best; and count your blessings."

Geoffrey Johnston
The funeral service for Geoffrey Johnston, 24, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Johnston, Sylvancrest, 7th con., and husband of the former Mary Usher, daughter of Col. and Mrs. J. F. H. Usher, Nancy Lake Farm, was held in All Saints' Anglican church on Monday afternoon, Sept. 8. The young couple were married in the same church in December, 1950.

The remains were brought from British Columbia, where the young man had passed away on Labor Day following a motor accident on August 29. Many who came to pay their last respects could not be accommodated in the church auditorium. The beautiful display of floral tributes flanked either side of the casket, and the vestible. They bespoke the high regard held for the young man whose promising career was so tragically ended.

The service was conducted by the Rev. D. C. H. Mitchell, rector of All Saints and Mr. D. H. Harris of Aurora presided at the organ.

The bearers were all young men, Christopher Johnston, a brother of Geoffrey, Terry Usher and Gordon Chesborough, brothers-in-law, Peter Brithaupt, William Outerbridge and Douglas Gelfer, Toronto.

Neighbors of the Johnston and Usher families, many from Toronto, others from Montreal, Kingston and Ottawa, as well as district friends and acquaintances attended the church and burial service. Rev. M. R. Jenkinson and Rev. David Wetherpoon of King City were among those present.

Surviving are the young widow and parents of the deceased, his sisters, Mrs. G. L. Chesborough of Montreal and Gladys at home, and a brother Christopher also at home.

Students Off To Normal

Betty Scott, Mary Scott of Nobleton and Roy Robson enrolled at the Toronto Normal school this week to take their teachers' training course. Mary was recently awarded the annual bursary valued at $100, given by the Wing Commander Lloyd Chaburn chapter, I.O.E.E., Aurora, to the son or daughter of an ex-serviceman.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wiltshire, Toronto, spent Saturday and part of Sunday with the latter's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller, and calling on their father, Mr. Frank Gambrell.

Miss Isobel Stephenson of Morrisley was a Sunday visitor of Mrs. Howard Neil. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Caldwell and son Keith of Barrie visited Mrs. Caldwell's mother, Mrs. Charles Neil, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bales, King Ridge, entertained Miss Mary McVeigh and her fiancé, Jim Flanagan, on Saturday evening after they had announced their engagement which fell on the birthday of Mary's twin brother and sister, Esther and James, aged five years. Others at the engagement evening were a sister, Rose McVeigh, and her friend, Basil Cain.

Mr. and Mrs. George Harvey left during the weekend for a motor trip to Quebec and other points. Mr. and Mrs. C. Bruce Hall are on a motor vacation trip to East Orange, New Jersey, where Mrs. Ethel Edge, Bruce's aunt, resides.

Mrs. Marie Fleet of Ottawa is spending three weeks at the home of her son Arthur on King St. Her daughter-in-law has entertained neighbors on two occasions. It is five years since Mrs. Fleet made a visit with her family here. Mr. Reg. Moses and Miss Doreen Jarman of Toronto have been dinner guests.

Mrs. Elias Bice will officially represent King Legion Ladies' Auxiliary at the Ontario provincial convention in Brockville, early October. She was a delegate last year at Timmins.

The president and as many members of the Legion auxiliary who are able will attend the Auxiliary zone rally at Newmarket on Thursday evening, Sept. 18. Later a local executive meeting will be held to plan arrangements for the annual Remembrance turkey banquet in November.

Scores 93 Percent in Entry
A beautiful smoked dress made by Mrs. J. A. Gillham, 7th line, entered at the C.N.E. women's division, was judged 93 points out of a possible 100. For a six-year-old girl, it is gold tulle (fine merized broadcloth) and is smocked in gold, rust and green to a depth of eight inches. It has 59 rows of smocking and bore the "Kingscrafts" label because it had been shown at Kingscrafts sale on June 4.

Mrs. Gillham received 40 points out of a possible 40 for her design; 38 out of 40 for workmanship; 10 points out of 10 for suitable material and seven points out of a possible 10 for brevity of the article.

Brewery Pack Starts Fall Term
The activities of King Brownie Pack will resume on Saturday, Sept. 13, at 2.30 in the basement of the United church under the leadership of Tawny Owl Mrs. Marion Loring, who is assisted by Faye Armstrong. The new girls will begin work for their tenderfoot test and the others will continue working toward their golden bar. Any girls in the district who are planning to join the pack are requested by Mrs. Loring to register this month. They must be eight years old and not more than 12 years.

June O'Reilly Given Shower

Before her marriage, Mrs. Gordon Thomas, as June O'Reilly, was given a surprise variety shower by her friend, Miss Mary McVeigh, and her sister, Margaret. Thirty-five friends attended the event in the auditorium of Sacred Heart school on Thursday, Sept. 4. Mary decorated the scene with pink and white bells, bows and streamers. On the stage were pink bowed chairs for the guest of honor and her attendants. Miss McVeigh assisted in opening 50 gifts and reading cards. Margaret O'Reilly passed the shower gifts among friends. A special table held the "Best Wishes" cake, gladioli flowers and pink tapers. The party was a surprise and as June entered the room, Mrs. Henry Gillham played "Here Comes the Bride". Afterward, Mrs. William Regan poured tea and buffet refreshments were served.

Mrs. Ada Wickert of Willowdale paid a weekend visit to her mother, Mrs. A. Gillham, her sister, Mrs. John Gould, and remained over Saturday night at the home of her brother, Henry Gillham. Mrs. George McDaniels, Toronto, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. H. Gillham, at Cosy Nook Farm.

Macaroons Win First
Using a recipe for coconut macaroons she's had for 24 years, Mrs. George Hatley of Eaton Hall Farm, Eversley, has won two firsts at the C.N.E. in 1950 and 1952 competitions. The flavor of the slightly golden macaroons was only one point below a perfect 30; the appearance rated 23, while the texture earned 35 out of 40 points. And they were baked in a wood stove in her own kitchen, a fact the C.N.E. judges would not be aware of.

When Gertrude Moore and George Hatley were married on Sept. 8, 1928, one of the standby recipes of the inexperienced cook was for macaroons. Its ingredients remain a secret although Mrs. Hatley says she uses almond flavoring. Other baking sent to the C.N.E. competitions by Mrs. Hatley won high points but not prize money. Carol Hatley, the teen-ager daughter of the household, received 75 and 70 points for her entries in tea biscuits and shortbread, in the Women's classes.

It is little wonder that as head of Aurora's high school cafeteria Mrs. Hatley's menu and preparation of food fare is acclaimed by teachers and pupils. Her slogan for the young people is "A home cooked meal away from home".

Tries C.N.E. Baking Contest
Mrs. Leslie Glass makes a banana cake from her mother's tried and tested recipe that would melt one to tears. She tried it out at the baking contest at the C.N.E. before a large gathering of spectators. When she telephoned her prior to the event, she spoke of being nervous and waking up in the night to think about it. But when she got started at the Ex she was calm and collected.

Wearing a dainty flowered muslin apron, the good luck gift of her friend, Mrs. Smith, she set to work having to use cake flour while her recipe calls for all-purpose. The oven was perfect and the cake turned out satisfactory. She fed it hot, brushing the surface with corn syrup before icing (a new idea for her). She asked for a cake tin. Mrs. Glass has never had a failure with the recipe and is interested in having other use it, and she offers it to readers:

1/2 cup butter, 1 cup granulated sugar, 2 eggs, 2 crushed bananas, 2 cups all purpose flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon baking soda, a pinch of salt, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Put in a greased loaf, or layer cake tin, and bake at 335 degrees F. Hunt at (Eaton Hall) Farm.

The Toronto and North York Hunt meet was held at Eaton Hall Farm under ideal conditions on Saturday, Sept. 6. Members of Aurora Pony Club watched proceedings with keen interest. The joint masters, Lady Eaton and Major Clifford Sifton were present. Others were Mrs. Mann who brought 6 horses, Mr. O. D. Robinson, Mr. Frank Proctor, the "grand old man of Canadian hunting," Col. Howard Phair and two daughters, mounted by Maj. Gen. Churchill Mann, Miss Thalia Collins and a large number of club members.

After the hunt, breakfast was served at Beverley Farms, Yonge St. On Wednesday, Sept. 10, the meet was held at Beverley and on Saturday, Sept. 13, it will be held at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. W. Pearson, west side, 3rd concession, on the second farm south of Snowball. The hunt meets on Wednesday, Sept. 17, on the Sifton Farm.

It has been pointed out that farmers and their friends are welcome to watch proceedings at the hunt meets.

Interesting information from a "faithful reader," of the Era and Express has been passed on to us to say that there have been twins attending King school within the past few years. Among these the "Reader" states, were the Hiltz twins, children of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hiltz and the Mustard twins, Phyllis and Lois, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Mustard who operated the store now owned by A. G. Green. We would be glad to receive the names of others with the information of where they are now living, and what their interests are.

King School Enrolment Up
Every seat is occupied in the junior room of King City school, with 19 beginners in grade one, the most Miss D. Patton, the teacher, has ever had. The schoolboard decided to accept children who would be six years of age by the end of March, the first quarter of the year. There are 33 in grades 1 and 2.

Grades 3 and 4 taught by Miss Ethel Thomas has 24, while the principal, Miss Eva Dennis, has 30 in grades 5, 6, 7, and 8. The total enrolment to date stands just under the 90 mark. Last term the highest total enrolment in the school was 81.

Mr. D. H. Harris, Aurora, took the first singing lessons with the three class rooms last Friday. He was quite well pleased with the junior room, despite their tender years.

See Game
When it was announced over the loud speaker at Maple Leaf Stadium, Sept. 2, that there were visitors from King, there was a happy response from over 40 young boys of the district softball league in which Strange team are champions. They were at the stadium through the kindness to K.C. Lions and Mr. Cook owner of the Leafs' club.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burt were married 40 years on Sunday, Sept. 7, and by Tuesday of this week were still in Toronto for their anniversary. On Sunday, Sept. 14, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Monson will celebrate their 40th anniversary when their daughters, Mrs. Jack Glocking and Miss Gladys Monson, Toronto, will be home. Their daughters, Mrs. Arthur Young of North Bay and Mrs. Harry Dunston, Peekskill, N.Y., will not come to King for the occasion as their parents paid them a visit recently.

Wee Baby Christened
Donna Marie Curran, the two weeks' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Curran (Doreen Loveless), was christened by Rev. Father McGoey at Sacred Heart Roman Catholic church on Sunday morning. The child wore a sheer white christening dress and shawl, knitted white jacket, booties and bonnet. The godparents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Reilly, her uncle and aunt, who gave the christening breakfast at their home after the service.

Mrs. (Rev.) Allan Cherry of Sharon, Penn., spent a day recently with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hollinshead. She was visiting her mother, Mrs. Chas. Egan, at Toronto, for a month at the time.

Miss June Hollinshead and her sister Ruth were guests at the Agar-Cairns wedding in King United church last Saturday. June was bridesmaid for her friend, the former Bernice Cairns of Aurora.

Kingscrafts Guild will meet at Kingswood, the home of Lady Flavell, on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 24. This will mark the second anniversary of the founding of the organization which has achieved prominence in the field of craftsmanship, membership and community friendliness.

P.C. Earl Wellesley left his mother's home at King on Friday to return to duty in district 6, O.P.P., at Fort Erie. His wife and children, Terry and Trudy, are remaining at her parents' home at Morrisburg for a couple of weeks. Constable Wellesley spent the first part of his vacation there.

Miss Kay Clark, Mrs. L. E. Rolling, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Scott attended Melody Fair last Thursday evening to see the musical, "Annie Get Your Gun", at Dufferin Park, Toronto.

Mr. Leslie Robinson is at Massey, Ont., the guest of Rev. Earl Bray and his wife this week. Mr. Bray has a preaching charge in the Evangelical church there. Mr. Robinson went by train from Toronto to Massey which is 30 miles west of Sudbury.

Trooper Rolfe Winter and his wife Doreen of Calgary paid a surprise visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Noble, on Saturday. He has a 30-day leave and they spent the weekend with his mother at Angus.

Church News
Regular divine worship at King City United church will revert to the evening service on Sunday, Sept. 14, at 7 p.m. Afterward the W.A. will conduct a fireside gathering in the basement when a social hour will introduce the opening of the fall activities of the congregation. Everyone is welcome to meet the minister and his wife and those of the choir and congregation.

At a special meeting of the W. A. held at the home of the president, Mrs. Austin Rumble, last week, it was decided to decorate the church in a special manner for a Harvest Home Sunday.

Fruits, flowers, vegetables, sheaves of grain will be used as part of the reminder that thanks should be rendered for a bountiful harvest. Mrs. H. G. Ratcliffe will convene the arrangements.

W.A. to Sponsor Cooking School
On October 16 and 17, King United church will sponsor cooking demonstrations by the Robin Hood Flour Co., in McDonald and Wells' hall at 8 p.m. The school will have appeal to everyone as the demonstrations are entirely different on both evenings. A small fee will be charged but a free recipe will be given to every person attending. Twenty-five bags of groceries will be given to the holders of admission tickets bearing lucky numbers, and cooking draws will be made.

Mrs. H. G. Ratcliffe introduced the new study book, "Along African Trails", at the monthly meeting of King United W.M.S. auxiliary held at the home of Mrs. Jas. Patton today (Thursday).

Rev. D. C. Wetherpoon commenced the first in a series of Bible studies at Eversley church on Wednesday, Sept. 10. Held on alternate Wednesdays, the course will continue until the middle of December.

Enter C.N.E. Traffic Quiz
Although they did not qualify for prizes, Mrs. A. E. Jarvis and Mrs. Austin Rumble benefited from their experience as contestants in the traffic and accident quiz, sponsored by the C.N.E. on Sept. 5. The awards went to three women. Over 50 competed, with the men decidedly in the minority. Last year Mrs. Len Shropshire of Eversley won second place. Inspector Vernon Page of the Toronto Safety Council, who conducted the contest, reiterated the remark he made last year at a similar contest, that "women are safer drivers than men."

Take Long Tour
After returning from a 4,600 mile motor trip to the east coast, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ratcliffe have interesting descriptions of sections of United States, the Maritimes and Quebec City, etc. which they enjoyed for over three weeks. They motored to the beautiful Finger Lakes in New York state, to Cape Cod, Plymouth, through Maine and up into Nova Scotia and Cape Breton Island. They liked the Maritimes very much. The tour gave Mr. Ratcliffe ample opportunity for photography. He shot 80 pictures in color and only one of the first sixty has not turned out well. He has the trip recorded in pictures while Mrs. Ratcliffe kept diary. Having a projector, their friends are now able to enjoy the scenes which made their experience so eventful.

As a handicraft enthusiast, Mrs. Ratcliffe found the hand hooked rugs at Chelcamp Island, as fascinating as they are beautiful. It was the people of this island who made the Wild Geese, Canadiana wall hanging designed by Thor Hansen for the B.A. Oil building in Toronto. At Gage Town, N.B., they saw the workers on hand looms who had woven the lap rugs, which were New Brunswick's gift to the royal couple last fall.

Meets Sailing Mate of 1909
Mr. Ern Hollinshead of Kingshorn met an old friend, Captain Archie Hogue, captain of the passenger boat "Algonquin", a pleasure craft on Lake of Bays, for the first time in 43 years. They had sailed the Great Lakes from the lake head, in 1908-9 when Mr. Hogue was a mate on the GR Crowe, a freighter.

With his wife and daughter, Zella, Mr. Hollinshead made a cruise in the captain's boat, docked to board a steam railroad for five miles and went by launch to Dorset, and all for $2.75. He really thinks he should do this sort of thing more often and freshen up on sea life. He celebrated his 70th birthday on Sept. 7 but had the birthday party and special cake a week earlier when his nephew came from Ottawa.

Canada's knit goods industry has spent $38,000,000 since the Second World War on a campaign of modernization.

W.I. Win C.N.E. Prize
For the second time in a row, King City Women's Institute has placed second in the C.N.E. special contest, "Five Ways to Improve the Canadian National Exhibition", competing against 26 teams on Saturday, Sept. 6, in the Coliseum building to take $75 cash award. There were three in each competing group. Beaches Assembly 29, Canadian Daughters, Toronto, took the $100 first prize money. Toronto's 25-year Euclyre Club placed third for $50.

Mrs. Archie Campbell, Mrs. Roy Hollinshead and Miss Eva Dennis were the team from the local Institute with Miss Dennis writing the points that had been arranged by the team with the assistance of Mrs. A. E. Jarvis, Institute president. Contestants were given ample time to write their suggestions. "When we finished I told Teen Hollinshead I had a feeling we would be a prize winner," related Mrs. Campbell, group convener.

It was a proud moment for the King women when Controller Shannon handed her the cheque. Although there were very few to cheer for King City W.I., someone in the background said "Good Old King". Smithfield, who were the 1951 winners, had two or three groups in the competition this year.

Prize Winning Suggestions
Here are the five ways for C.N.E. improvement submitted by King City W.I. To extend seats at the water front for those watching the water sports and roof them against the hot sun or rain; Organize a publicity campaign against unsightly litter on the grounds of the C.N.E. and to provide more waste baskets. Potted reminders, at intervals over the loud speaker system.

At what age do most women retire?
Ten years earlier than men... usually at 55.

They also live longer. Business women, therefore, require retirement income for a much longer period of time than men.
